Role title	Junior Performance Manager
Reporting to	Business Manager
Date	February 2023

Acquire is a Data-driven advertising specialist offering holistic digital strategy and execution and a sophisticated approach to data, insights and custom consulting services. We are the future for ambitious marketers wanting to make real business impact through paid media and to work collaboratively with a specialist to solve their digital marketing problems together.

Acquire was named Campaign's 2022 Programmatic Agency of the year for Australia and New Zealand.

What makes us different?

Having a commercial appreciation of our clients business model and goals; combined with our experience, best tech and best use of data to engineer a measurable business impact through digital strategy and paid digital advertising; and at the same time providing true transparency of costs, performance and value creation.

Ambition

We are committed to significantly increasing our client's profitability by activating their hidden marketing potential using the best tech, our best people, and the best use of their data.

Our staff are exceptional at working, learning and growing new skills and capabilities. All staff strive to pass this on to clients - for excellence in client data analytics, strategy, insights, and performance. This empowers them to unlock significant client value, going well beyond just achieving client business goals and justifying our partnership.

Our Mission

Our 10-year mission is to liberate digital advertising, data, reporting and performance. Acquire delivers data-driven business solutions through powerful digital media strategy, media performance and significant impact on our clients business.

Your role

The Junior Performance Manager is responsible for building, implementing, tracking, optimising, and reporting on client campaigns. The role is responsible for delivering campaign KPIs that exceed client expectations while also testing and implementing some of Acquire's newest offerings. You will be an integral part of the Business Unit, directly helping the Business Unit to meet performance expectations, including growing and retaining our client base.
